Section 4: Purposes and Legal Basis for Processing Your Data

We will only process your personal data when we have a valid legal basis to do so under the GDPR, which requires but is not limited to your Consent. We have your Consent where you've agreed to us collecting your personal data, or your sensitive personal data, for example when you have ticked a box to indicate that you are happy for us to use your personal data in a certain way or you have signed a consent form.

feasibility of creating and marketing certain products.

Your personal data is processed solely for the purpose of this research, and we rely on your explicit consent for this processing. You have the right to withdraw this consent at any time.

Section 5: Data Minimization and Accuracy

We adhere to the principle of data minimization, meaning we only collect and process personal data that is strictly necessary for the purposes outlined in this policy. We take all reasonable steps to ensure the personal data we hold is accurate and up-to-date.

Section 6: Disclosure and Recipients of Your Personal Data

We do not share your personal data with any third parties except in the limited circumstances described below. All personal data is hosted in a private cloud environment that is only accessible to our company. The data is stored by Google LLC on our behalf, but Google LLC does not have access to or process this data for its own purposes.

For legal reasons, we may be required to share your personal data with other organizations and authorities. This may include:

- Law enforcement agencies, financial institutions, government bodies, and fraud prevention services to verify your identity, investigate or protect against suspected fraud, and to comply with legal and regulatory obligations, including the ones laid out by the GDPR (EU).
- Other third parties where necessary to:
 - Fulfill any legal or regulatory requirement.
 - Enforce our rights and the rights of our customers or others.
 - In connection with legal claims.
 - In the event of an investigation into suspected or actual criminal or fraudulent activity.
 - If we sell our business or change its legal structure.

Section 7: International Data Transfers

As we provide an international service, we may need to transfer your personal data outside the European Economic Area (EEA) to provide our services. We may send your personal data outside of the EEA to:

- Fulfill global legal and regulatory requirements.
- Provide ongoing support services.
- Share with fraud prevention agencies, regulators, or law enforcement authorities.
- Enable us to provide you with the products or services you have requested.

If we transfer your personal data to another country that does not offer a standard of data protection equivalent to the EEA, we will ensure that your personal data is sufficiently protected. For example, we will make sure that a contract with strict data protection safeguards is in place before we transfer your personal data. In some cases, you may be entitled to ask us for a copy of this contract. In any case, your data will not be used for any other purpose than the one which it was initially collected for.

If you would like more information, please contact us by sending an email to the address referenced in Section 1 of this policy.

Section 8: Data Retention

We will keep your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfill the purpose for which it was collected. The specific time period depends on:

- The length of time required to fulfill the original purpose.
- Our need to comply with relevant legal and regulatory obligations.

Section 9: Your Rights as a Data Subject

Under the GDPR, you have the following rights regarding your personal data, insofar as your personal data is directly or indirectly associated with your identity (i.e. not irreversibly anonymized):

- The right to be informed: You have the right to be informed about the collection and use of your personal data.
- The right of access: You have the right to request a copy of the personal data we hold about you.
- The right to rectification: You have the right to have any inaccurate or incomplete data we hold about you corrected.
- The right to erasure ("right to be forgotten"): You have the right to request the deletion of your personal data.
- The right to restrict processing: You have the right to request that we restrict the processing of your personal data.
- The right to data portability: You have the right to receive your personal data in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format and to have it transmitted to another controller.
- The right to object: You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances, including for direct marketing purposes.
- Rights in relation to automated decision-making and profiling: You have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you.

To exercise any of these rights, please contact us at the email address referenced in Section 1 of this policy.

For security reasons, we can't deal with your request if we are not sure of your identity, so we may ask you for proof of your ID. If a third party exercises one of these rights on your behalf, we may need to ask for proof that a third party has been validly authorised to act on your behalf. When you exercise one of these rights, it may take us up to one calendar month to implement your changes. We will usually not charge you a fee when you exercise your rights. However, we are allowed by law to charge a reasonable fee or refuse to act on your request if it is manifestly unfounded or excessive.

Section 10: Right to Withdraw Consent

Since our legal basis for processing your personal data is Consent, you have the right to withdraw that consent at any time. The withdrawal of consent will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal. To withdraw your consent, please contact us at the email address referenced in Section 1 of this policy.

Section 11: Right to Lodge a Complaint

If you're unhappy with how we've handled your request you can complain to your local data protection authority. In the Netherlands, this is the Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens (<https://autoriteitpersoonsgegevens.nl/>).

Section 12: Security of Your Personal Data

We are committed to ensuring that your personal data is secure. We have implemented appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect your data from unauthorized access, use, alteration, or disclosure. These measures include data encryption and access controls.

Your personal data is kept safe by Google LLC (safety statement) and guarded by 2-step authentication for the account that is used to store and access your personal data (account which is owned exclusively by our company).

Section 13: Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this policy from time to time. The latest version will always be available at <https://baseworks.tech/assets/policies/privacy/privacy-and-data-protection-policy-latest.pdf>. We will notify you of any significant changes by posting a new version of the policy on our website or by contacting you by email.
